Business owners face challenges when they try to sell or transition out of their business. In fact, four out of five businesses that are listed for sale never get sold – and with the baby boomers preparing for retirement, there is a risk of a glut of businesses on the market for sale.

Whether you want to sell your business, hand it off to family members, or transition it to your leadership team, you have to be ready.

The Center for Executive Coaching's Exit and Succession Planning CEO Roundtable is designed to help you prepare and achieve success. Here are three reasons to join:

STRENGTHEN YOUR BUSINESS TO MAKE IT MORE PROFITABLE, VALUABLE, AND ATTRACTIVE.

At each meeting you discover new strategies and tactics to strengthen your business, increase profits and cash flow, and ultimately make it more valuable. That way, selling or transitioning your business becomes more seamless.

TAP INTO THE WEALTH YOU HAVE CREATED IN YOUR BUSINESS.

You have spent years and lots of sweat building your business. Make sure that it is set up for an easy transition and that you can get access to that wealth. Many business owners are going to be in for an unpleasant shock when they find out that their wealth is trapped in their businesses. The Exit and Succession Planning CEO Roundtable is laser-focused on helping you tap into the wealth your business has generated.

HAVE MORE TIME TO ENJOY OTHER PARTS OF YOUR LIFE.

Many business owners feel like they spend too much time in their business, and that the business is too dependent on them. The Exit and Succession Planning CEO Roundtable sets you up to have more time, spend more time as a CEO instead of a fire fighter, and enjoy better balance in your life.

The program is designed for your busy schedule, and is only open to successful business owners like you.
